DEAD WOMAN'S RELATIVES WILL FACE ATTORNEY

Sister and Brother of Mrs. Szabo Coming from Vienna to Give Testimony.

GIBSON DENIES HIS GUILT

New Yorker Accused in Will Case Says Mother of Mrs. Szabo

New York, Sept. 5.—Burton W. Gibson, lawyer and executor of the estate of Rosa Menachik Szabo, who was drowned while boating with him in Greenwood Lake on July 16, will have to undergo the dramatic ordeal of confrontation with the brother and sister of the deceased.

Gibson, who, following Mrs. Szabo's death, produced a will signed by her devising her estate to her mother—dead two years when the will was drawn—and who took charge of her estate as executor under the same will, declaring that there were no other heirs, returned to New York. On his arrival he hastened to make this flat statement:

"The mother of Mrs. Szabo is living and in this country."

Deputy Consul General Fischerauer, of Austria-Hungary, when acquainted with this statement, replied promptly:

"And I will prove by a death certificate and the testimony of a brother and sister of Mrs. Szabo that she is dead. I will prove by the brother and sister that they were at their mother's bedside when she died. And I will prove further that Mrs. Szabo knew that her mother was dead."

Cables to Vienna.

Dr. Fischerauer to-night cabled the chief of police of Vienna to forward to him the death certificate of Mrs. Szabo's mother and also arrange for the sailing of a sister and brother of the deceased as soon as possible.

It was declared at the Austro-Hungarian consulate to-day that the fact of Mrs. Szabo being unable to read and write English accounted for the provision in her will leaving her estate to her mother whom she knew to be dead. The will was written in English, and any one so disposed could easily have deceived her as to the contents of the document which she was signing.

Coincident with these developments, Adolph Rink, the Pinkerton detective who made serious accusations against Gibson in the affidavit filed with Surrogate Fowler demanding Gibson's removal as executor of the estate, declared that the woman who posed as Mrs. Szabo's mother at the probate of the will had been located and would be produced when wanted.

Hearing on September 17.

"This woman is only a little over fifty years old," said Rink, "and as Mrs. Szabo was about forty-two when she died, the absurdity of this woman posing as Mrs. Szabo's mother is apparent."

Surrogate Fowler to-day fixed September 15 as the date for a hearing in the application of the Austrian consulate general for the removal of Gibson as executor. By that date it will be possible for all of the necessary testimony from Vienna to be in hand here, and a most dramatic denouement is expected.

In the meantime, District Attorney Whitman has taken hold of the case. Dr. Fischerauer, accompanied by A. Kramer, counsel for the Consul General, and a Pinkerton detective had a long conference with Assistant District Attorney Murphy at the Criminal Courts Building this afternoon. When the conference was at an end, Mr. Murphy admitted that an investigation had been started in consequence of the facts alleged in the affidavits laid before him.

Elsewhere it was learned that there is

FIREMAN RUNS INTO TELEPHONE POLE AND IS INSTANTLY KILLED

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 5.—James H. Beneshoten, a volunteer fireman, broke his neck here to-day while running in answer to a false alarm. He dashed into a telephone pole, and died instantly. Beneshoten heard the alarm as he was going home with a new uniform, which he expected to wear in the State firemen's parade, which took place here to-day. The bundle was found tightly clutched under his arm. He leaves a widow and two children.

FEDERAL FORCES DEFEAT REBELS

Nicaraguan Government Gets Busy and Situation Is Greatly Improved—Prisoners Are Taken.

TREACHERY IS UNCOVERED

The Nicaraguan government has bestirred itself in the last few days and made considerable progress toward putting down the revolution in that country, according to dispatches to the State Department from United States Minister Wetzel, received here yesterday.

Col. Diaz has defeated 350 Zeledóns, under Col. Berrios at La Paz. La Paz is on the railroad from Corinto to Managua. More than 2,000 rounds of rebel ammunition were captured, and Col. Berrios, who was secretary of war under Zeledón, was taken prisoner.

The same afternoon, the government won a more important victory at Tipitapa, where the rebels, several weeks ago, won one of the first engagements of the revolution. Gen. Arsenio Cruz defeated the force of 500 men, under Col. Cerillos, and recaptured Tipitapa. The government forces made prisoners of two colonels, including Cerillos, eight captains, and thirty-three subordinate officers of the rebel force.

At Tamarindo, on the east side of Lake Managua, the government forces captured Gen. Iria, a deputy in the national assembly, with 150 armed men. This force was attempting to join Gen. Mena at Granada.

Robbery and Extortion.

It is reported that Mena, at Granada, and Zeledón, at Masaya, have collected a great deal of cash by robbery and extortion.

Much treachery has been uncovered in the administration forces. It is stated that the penitentiary at Managua is becoming filled with prominent army officers, who were found to be plotting against the government. It is expected here that Admiral Southerland and his subordinate officers will see that the government authorities do not exercise the same cruelties toward the rebel prisoners as the revolutionaries are being accused of in the cities where they are in control.

Admiral Southerland reported yesterday that marines from the Colorado will follow Col. Pendleton's command to Managua, as soon as the cruiser arrives at Corinto. The way to Managua is open, the admiral reports, and he is in communication with the capital city. All is quiet there, he states.

Admiral Southerland believes that the reports concerning the conditions at Matagalpa, where a large foreign colony is cut off from communication, are exaggerated. He is investigating, however, and is authorized to take whatever action he deems necessary.

It is the belief at the State and Navy Departments that the revolution in Nicaragua is over, and no serious disturbances are looked for.

Lone Bandit Robs Train.

Osage City, Kans., Sept. 5.—A lone bandit boarded Missouri Pacific train, No. 1, here early to-day, and at the point of a revolver robbed the conductor and passengers. He forced them to accompany him through the chair car, holding a sack into which the passengers were compelled to put all their money and valuables. The porter in another car saw the robber, and pulled the bell cord. When the train stopped the man escaped. The amount he secured is not known.

To Appoint Committee.

At the next meeting of the club a committee is to be appointed to co-operate with similar committees from other Democratic organizations in arranging for the meeting.

Plans are also under consideration for the formation of a marching club. This question was also introduced last night by Mr. Clayton. He said that there was nothing which was better adapted to arouse enthusiasm than a marching club.

"This is supposed to be a young men's club," he said. "That is one of the chief reasons why he should become active in the formation of such a club. A marching club is just the thing for young men. We will need such an organization to march in the inaugural procession next March when Wilson is escorted from the Capitol to the White House, and we might as well get busy and form it now."

A committee will be appointed at the next meeting of the club to lay plans for the organization of such a club.

J. Fred Kelley, former chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, was re-elected president of the club. He has held the position for a number of years.

William J. Neale was elected secretary, and James L. Skidmore was re-elected vice president. The other officers will be elected at the next meeting, which will be held next Wednesday night. From now until the November election meetings are to be held weekly.

Kyle B. Price, of Alabama, made a spirited speech. He characterized Roosevelt as a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. His attack upon the Bull Moose party was vitriolic.

One Killed in Week.

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—Michael May, an engineer of Vandalia, Ill., was killed, and Frank J. Stockley, a fireman, was fatally scalded, when Missouri Pacific passenger train, No. 1, was derailed at Fern Glen, Mo., twenty-one miles west of here to-day.

The train of fourteen coaches, five sleepers, and two engines left the Union station at 9 o'clock, bound for Kansas City.

GOSH, THIS HAS BEEN A BUSY SEASON!

DEMOCRATS ELECT KELLEY PRESIDENT

Young Men's Club Organizes for Campaign—Plan for Big Ratification Meeting.

MARCHING CLUB PROPOSED FOR INAUGURAL PARADE

William J. Neale Re-elected Secretary and James L. Skidmore Vice President.

The Young Men's Democratic Club of the District of Columbia, which was organized in 1884, opened its campaign for Wilson and Marshall at a meeting last night in old Masonic Temple. The campaign will be the most vigorous ever conducted by the organization, if the plans under contemplation are carried out.

The club will seek the assistance of similar Democratic organizations in the District in holding a big Wilson and Marshall ratification meeting. The matter was introduced last night by William McK. Clayton, and will be considered in greater detail at the next meeting.

Mr. Clayton said that the ratification meetings which have been held under auspices of the various Democratic clubs have been factional, and have thus failed of their purpose—that of arousing interest in the election of a Democratic President and Vice President in November.

At the next meeting of the club a committee is to be appointed to co-operate with similar committees from other Democratic organizations in arranging for the meeting.

Plans are also under consideration for the formation of a marching club. This question was also introduced last night by Mr. Clayton. He said that there was nothing which was better adapted to arouse enthusiasm than a marching club.

Washington Girl Takes Aeroplane Ride at Newport

Newport, R. I., Sept. 5.—Miss Katherine Whitley, of Washington, has the distinction of being the first woman to take a flight over Newport in an airplane. She took a ten-minute flight with Jack McGee, the Pawtucket aviator, from Easton Beach to-day. A stiff breeze blew during the flight, but this did not deter McGee or frighten his fair passenger. Miss Whitley, after her flight, stated: "I always wanted to fly and now my wish is gratified. I wanted to be over the heads of the people," she stated, smiling. "The sensation was hardly noticeable, and I watched Mr. McGee with pleasure. No, indeed, I did not hold any tighter than in ordinary fashion."

Taft Embarks on the Mayflower for Connecticut Trip

New York, Sept. 5.—President Taft arrived here from Washington at 3:15 this afternoon. He was still feeling the effects of his sprained ankle and was wheeled in an invalid's chair from the train to the auto, which was in waiting to take him to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where he boarded the Presidential yacht Mayflower, which steamed a few minutes later for New London, Conn.

Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the National Republican Committee, and George R. Sheldon, secretary of the same body, met the nation's Chief Executive at the station.

The Mayflower, bearing Mrs. Taft, arrived off Sandy Hook from the Washington Navy Yard at 8:30 this morning, and came up the bay to the Brooklyn yard immediately. President Taft is on his way to the deep waterways convention at New London, where he will deliver an address.

PRESIDENT LEAVES WASHINGTON UNTIL AFTER ELECTION DAY

Carefully nursing his game leg, President Taft left here at 10 o'clock yesterday morning en route to New York and New London, Conn. His injured ankle, aggravated by a slight touch of gout, was much improved yesterday. Therefore he decided not to cancel his engagement to attend the Deep Waterways Convention at New London.

The President was able to walk from the White House to his automobile upon going to the train. He limped the 100 feet with the aid of a cane. He also hobbled through the Union Station, declining an offer of a rolling chair.

Maj. Rhoads, the President's physician, said that the President rested well Wednesday night, but that his ankle gives him much pain. He believes a week on the Mayflower will result in the President's complete recovery. The President will not return to Washington until after election.

MILLIONAIRES DO NOT AGREE UPON CHOICES FOR THE PRESIDENCY

New York, Sept. 5.—Three American millionaires, returning on the liner Olympic from vacations spent in Europe, to-day picked as many favorites for the next President of the United States.

"James A. Patten, the retired grain operator, of Chicago, predicted that Gov. Wilson would be elected; but Mr. Patten declared that no matter who the winner is, the growth of prosperity in this country will continue."

Frank A. Munsey, the publisher, was enthusiastic over the chances of Col. Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Munsey said that he intended to get into the National progressive fight personally from now till November.

Col. Samuel R. Colt, president of the United States Rubber Company, predicted the re-election of President Taft.

BLAMES MEXICANS FOR HIS DOWNFALL

Henry A. Eaves, Alleged Swindler, Tells Thrilling Story of Experiences in Madero Republic.

LOST ESTATE IN REVOLUTION; FORCED TO LEAVE COUNTRY

Fortune of $60,000 Swept Away. Many Atrocities Committed, He Says.

Henry A. Eaves, who was brought back yesterday from Columbus, Ohio, to answer charges of swindling automobile dealers in Washington out of $325 last Friday, made a confession last night, and declared his trouble resulted from the loss of a $60,000 estate in Mexico during the revolution there.

Eaves, who appears broken in health, said he was tired of dodging detectives, and then told a thrilling tale of his adventures.

Lost $60,000 Estate.

"Shortly before the outbreak of the Mexican revolution," he said, "I possessed about $60,000 and had a large real estate business, dealing largely in ranches. I also represented many American mining interests. One evening, I, together with my wife and two children, was sitting on the veranda of my home in Torreon, Mexico, when a gang of Mexican plunderers swooped down upon us. They pillaged my household. There must have been a government official among them, because shortly after I was forced out of the country."

"On one occasion I saw a German couple shot down when they attempted to stop several Mexicans from ransacking their home. There were many other atrocious crimes perpetrated on Americans, which went unpunished."

About two years ago, after having been driven out of Mexico, Eaves said he went to San Antonio, Tex. He had a few thousand dollars left. Failing in an effort again to start up in the realty business, Eaves said he passed a check on an automobile dealer in San Antonio for a small amount. Then he went to Florida, he related, and sought employment as a representative for the Florida Everglades Company.

Worked Through South.

Leaving there, he worked his way through the South, he stated, passing checks in several cities. Eaves explained his system of operation. He would "buy" a machine, tendering a check a few hundred dollars over the cost. According to his statement, he posed as a business man, merchant, banker, and real estate operator.

Eaves said he had a wife and children in New Mexico, but does not know now whether they are alive.

When Eaves was arrested in Columbus he had blank checks on banks in several cities and visiting cards with two different names on them.

Detective Springman brought Eaves back from Columbus.

The firms Eaves is alleged to have swindled here are the Barrard Motor Car Company and the Overland Washington Auto Company.

Eaves is said to be suffering from a severe kidney disorder. The physicians administered an opiate to him in his cell last night.

It is not known when he will have a hearing. He is said to be "wanted" in several other places than Washington.

SOCIETY WOMEN PUT DOWN AS BAD RISKS BY INSURANCE MEN

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Wypien in high society are bad insurance risks. All other women, especially business women, are considered good risks. That is the dictum of the American Life Insurance Convention, in session here.

"Women who live so-called high life have a hard time getting insurance," said President Gold. "They eat such indigestible food and drink so many harmful beverages that their systems are wrecked and they go the quick route to the grave."

Toward other women life insurance companies feel different.

ZAPATA WARNS RAILROADS NOT TO RUN TRAINS

Rebel Leader's Order Is Carried Out and Cuernavaca Is Cut Off from Capital.

MAKES DYNAMITE THREATS

Officials of Nogales, Ariz., Get Ultimatum from Mexican Insurrectos.

Mexico City, Sept. 5.—Emiliano Zapata, head of the bandit rebels of Southern Mexico, who is in a position to cut off all railroads entering this city if he so desires, has issued an order forbidding the National Railways of Mexico to operate any more trains on the Cuernavaca branch. The order was presented to the train crew of a passenger train coming to Mexico City from Cuernavaca at Dolores station by messengers from Zapata. The message warns the National Railways that the next train run to or from Cuernavaca, whether it carries freight, passengers, or troops, will be dynamited. The message is written in excellent English. The National Railways has suspended traffic on the line, inasmuch as the government is unable to afford protection.

Eufemio Zapata, brother of Emiliano, has crossed from Guerrero into the state of Vera Cruz, at the head of 1,500 men. They captured Zongolica, a town of 2,000 inhabitants, after a six-hour fight, killing the garrison.

Revolt Among Federals.

He then united with Pedro Garaybay, another rebel leader, with 600 men, moving on toward the port of Vera Cruz. Officials of Vera Cruz have asked aid, as they believe the rebels plan to take the port, which is practically defenseless.

Though the government denies it, there has been serious trouble for more than a week in the barracks of the Third Artillery in Mexico City. Several of the leaders of a plot to loot the Cuartel de Armas and join Zapata have been executed, and more than 100 men of the company have been removed to the federal penitentiary at Santiago. Capt. Pablo Ortega was injured in arresting the prisoners, two of whom were wounded.

The revolutionists have attacked Zacualpan and Tenancingo, towns of about 4,000 and 15,000 inhabitants, respectively. They were repulsed at Zacualpan, but returned to the attack, and the fighting is reported as about even at Tenancingo.

DISTRICT RIFLEMEN WIN.

Take Surprise Fire Stage at Seagriff Shoot.

Seagriff, N. J., Sept. 5.—Two teams of Massachusetts riflemen to-day took the trophy and second money in the National Rifle Association enlisted men match by scoring 548 and 538. The District of Columbia team handed the trophy to the District of Columbia at 517 took the surprise fire stage of the New Jersey national twelve-man team match. Iowa was second with 367, and the marines third with 351.

To save time on the belated schedule, the Dryden scores to-morrow will be counted in the national matches.

Long range individual honors in the Marine Corps match were won by Capt. Guy H. Emerson, of Ohio, who made 149 out of a possible 200, beating the match record set last year by Lieut. O. Simon, of Ohio.

The Libbey Trophy went to Sergt. J. E. Jackson, of the Marine Corps, who scored 92 at 1,100 yards.

Capt. Wise led the field in the Dupont novelty match, exploding five of the twenty dynamite silhouette targets lined up on the beach.

The National Rifle Association held its annual meeting this evening, with the president, Brig. Gen. John C. Bates, U. S. A., presiding. The tournament prizes were awarded this evening.

CHINESE BID FOR LOAN

Offer Revenue from Salt Tax as Security for $300,000,000.

Peking, Sept. 5.—Despairing of carrying out the aims of the republican reformers without money, the Chinese government is making further representations to the five-power financial group for a $300,000,000 loan.

It was learned to-day that the government has offered to security the revenue from the salt tax for five years and supervision of the country's finances.

The outlook for a loan is now more favorable than ever before, as hitherto the government has rejected outside financial supervision.

MOB BEATS SUFFRAGETTES

Police Rescue Women from Infuriated Londoners.

London, Sept. 5.—After being thrown out of the Welsh Zisteddoff for interrupting Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George to-day, several suffragettes were set upon by a mob, severely beaten and nearly stripped of their clothing. The police rescued them only by diligent use of their clubs, wrapped the women in blankets, and flung got them to places of safety.

The police inside the hall were compelled to handle the women rather roughly in driving them from the building, and one suffragette was slightly injured. None was arrested.

COLONEL SHAKES HIS FIST UNDER EBERHART'S NOSE

Denounces Minnesota Governor to His Face at Progressive Luncheon in Minneapolis.

'UNWORTHY OF CONFIDENCE'

Roosevelt Also Takes Fling at Wilson and Says Clark Was Cheated at Baltimore.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 5.—While Gov. Eberhart, the standard candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in Minnesota, sat squirming in his seat, Col. Roosevelt let loose to-day a burning attack upon him for daring to support Taft's "stolen" nomination. The colonel did not mention the governor by name, but Eberhart knew he was the target, and every word he uttered was greeted with biting sarcasm, remarked that he could not understand how certain Republicans could hope to maintain a shred of decency by supporting the nominee of the "stolen goods convention" at Chicago.

The Governor went to the luncheon of the Progressives only after being persuaded that the chief executive ought to pay courtesy to the former President. Eberhart looked like a ghost at the feast. He could do but little.

Roosevelt wasted no time in getting after the Governor, once he started. Looking in Eberhart's way—the colonel and governor being separated only by the toastmaster—the colonel, with biting sarcasm, remarked that he could not understand how certain Republicans could hope to maintain a shred of decency by supporting the nominee of the "stolen goods convention" at Chicago.

"I am a regular Republican," he replied.

"Any man who fails to condemn it is unworthy of public confidence," vociferated the colonel.

All eyes turned upon Eberhart, who sat looking hard into the air. Roosevelt shook his fist, almost under the Governor's nose, crying:

"Every man knows Mr. Taft's nomination was secured by fraud. No man of honor could countenance it."

Still Eberhart gazed ahead. Later the Governor was asked if he would continue to support Mr. Taft.

"I am a regular Republican," he replied.

Although the Progressives maintain that Roosevelt will carry Minnesota by an even greater majority than that by which he swept the State in the spring primaries, they have little hope for their State ticket.

Roosevelt's stay in Minnesota was divided between this city and Minneapolis. As he rode through the streets this morning on his way to the hotel, where he breakfasted, slight enthusiasm was evidenced. He got a perfunctory cheer from a small crowd of about 200 men and nearly 10,000 people heard Roosevelt talk at the Minnesota Fair Grounds, where he was the chief attraction, but 20,000 showed up. The Roosevelt boomers were visibly disappointed, and tried to excuse the difference in the two crowds with the suggestion that the people have made up their minds to vote for Roosevelt anyhow, and did not need to come out.

Says Clark Was Cheated.

The throng at the fair grounds refrained from any wild outburst over the colonel's speech, but spoke from a grand stand beneath the trees. He plunged into his usual denunciation of the bosses of both parties, saying that by voting for Wilson the people will only change from Republican boss rule to Democratic.

In attacking the Roosevelt boomers it is known that he believed Clark

ESPOUSES BULL MOOSE CAUSE AND IS RAPED FROM FAMILY HOME

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 5.—Edward L. Pond, a Yale graduate, member of the Connecticut bar, and prominent locally as a newspaper man, has been banished from the home of his father, State Senator E. L. Pond of Plymouth, as a result of the young man's activity in behalf of the Bull Moose party.

"Never darken my door again, either you or your wife," reads the note which young Pond received from his wealthy father, after participating in a rally for Roosevelt, at which he espoused the cause of the third term and made a red-hot speech in favor of the colonel. Young Pond was sent to the meeting as a reporter for the Hartford Courant. The elder Pond is an enthusiastic Taft Republican, is also the owner of the Courant, and it is reported that Edward L. Pond is likely to lose his place as reporter, as well as his welcome at the paternal household. Unfortunately, he is wealthy in his own right, so neither he nor his young wife is worried very much over either eventuality.

SECRETARY MEYER DENIES HE WILL LEAVE THE CABINET

Boston, Sept. 5.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer denied to-night that he had decided to resign from the Cabinet on account of ill-health, as was reported to-day.

"There is absolutely no truth in this rumor," he said. "I am not to leave the Cabinet. My health is very much improved."

FEAR OF PAIN CAUSES LITTLE GIRL TO DIE IN DENTIST'S CHAIR

York, Pa., Sept. 5.—The fear of pain caused by having a tooth extracted, to-day caused the death of Anne Henry, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Henry. The girl was reluctant to have the tooth pulled, but was prevailed upon to have it removed. As the gas was about to be given, she collapsed and expired shortly afterward.
